II. WORK & SHOWCASE CONCERT

WORK TO SUBMIT

The subject of the 2024 Composition Competition is a work for solo viola and chamber orchestra, to be performed with the Orchestre de Chambre de Genève. The work must be composed with the following characteristics:

- The work must have a duration of approximately 15 minutes.
- The work must be written for solo viola and chamber orchestra.
- The chamber orchestra must be within the following range:
2*.2*.2*.2* - 2.2.1.0 - keyboard (1) - percussion (2) - strings: 8.6.4.4.2

A detailed list of percussion instruments must be provided.

- The winning work will be selected as compulsory piece for the Semi-Finals of the 2025 Concours de Genève (viola). The jury will therefore be asked to take into account the playability of the work and the enhancement of the solo instrument.
- The musical score should be in digital form or handwritten, but must be perfectly legible.

SHOWCASE CONCERT

In order to give the Jury and the audience in Geneva further insight into the artistic personalities of the 3 Finalists, the Competition will be organizing a Showcase Concert on 19 October 2024.

This concert will feature works already composed by the 3 Finalists for solo instrument or small chamber music groups.

The works will be chosen jointly by the Competition and the Finalists.

The aim of this concert is to highlight Finalists' personality and artistic background. The concert is given in the presence of the official Jury.

EXCERPT OF JURY RULES

The Concours de Genève has a strict set of rules by which juries must abide. These include both general rules and voting procedures that change in accordance with the various stages of the Competition. Here are a few defining features:

- The purpose of the selection round is to choose the finalists whose works will be performed during the public Final Round of the Competition
- This selection phase takes place in camera in the presence of the official Jury of the 2024 Composition Competition, composed of five members. The work of the Jury, their decisions and discussions are bound by professional secrecy.
- The Concours de Genève can admit a maximum of 4 finalists to the Final Round.
- Jury members who identify a score from one of their students should abstain from voting for that score during the selection phase and leave their vote blank. This regulation pertains to students who are consistently enrolled annually with any jury member. However, participants in Masterclasses are exempt from this rule.
- The selection consists of several stages by successive elimination to the final result. Members of the Jury are invited to express their assessments by using the following system: YES – MAYBE – NO
- Official prizes are attributed in two phases: first, the Jury establishes a ranking of finalists, then decides whether or not the best amongst them deserves a First Prize.
- All prizes are not necessarily awarded.
